Opened in 1922, Lexington's Princess Theatre has been at the corner of South Main Street and Natchez Trace Drive since December of 1935. Renovated in 2015, it offers a nostalgic yet contemporary movie-going experience with an HD projection and surround sound, a 1965 Coca-Cola clock, a 1967 popcorn machine with classic and caramel popcorn, and the original 1970s ticket box.
